

Answer Key and Solutions

Exercise- 6

1. A. There are also deciduous ones which may shed their leaves during a particular season annually making their branches turn bare. Trees make landscapes beautiful.
2. C. . Unlike the earlier times when the students had to take out time to visit the library.....
3. D. has also become much easier.....Not just students, computers
4. A. Refer to the first and last lines of the passage.
5. C. Dogs, Latin word – canis, are the mammals that can be domesticated as they are not wild naturally. It's a four legged animal which was originally bred from wolves. (Dogs can become if they are aroused ,for they are from the family of wolves)
6. C. It is definitely easy to follow the path of dishonesty and falsehood but it entraps you to the extent that it becomes difficult to come out of it.
7. A. Honesty helps you develop good relations and friendships based on trust. (The assumption is that the friendship based on trust is not temporary)
8. B. Starting from smart phones Human lives are so intricately connected to technology Today, every nation is thriving on technology to generate economy.....
9. C. It refers to the strange occupation of technology in people's lives.
10. A. By this hydrological cycle the ratio.....
11. B. Water is not a major requirement for survival only because it has various uses but also because it is a part of ecosystem.
12. D. as there is a considerable difference between girl and boy childpublic is getting sensitized towards these critical social issues.....Street plays and dramas are being staged to spread awareness about the rights of the girl child
13. B. Friendships therefore have a great bearing on our life.
14. D., because we want long lasting true friends whom we may trust and who, in turn, can trust us. Friendship calls for loyalty.

15. A. The general public can also express their views through newspaper columns.
16. B.when they join a new group or when life circumstances change dramatically.....Most instances of resocialization are mild modifications, such as adapting to a new work environment
17. C. it is common only in developed countries with advanced technologies
18. D. Unfortunately, only the country that has the widget machine is able to benefit from this technological advance.
19. C. . For example, chemical pollutants from manufacturing and similar industrial processes can enter the water and get into the bodies of everything living in that water.
20. C. if the chemical wastes get into the water bodies providing water for people, drinking that water is harmful to those remain beyond industrial limits. This is safe assumption from the passage.
21. B. However these enterprises are facing different hurdles.....
22. C. In developing countries like India, these industries or Enterprises have an enormous importance due to its high level employment potential with low capital cost.
23. D. Benthos sometimes feed on fecal but planktons do not
24. A. nutrition to a rich benthic community.....The plankton animals, for the most part, go
25. A. The natural habitat of coconuts is found in coastal areas.....
26. D. People decide whether or not they like a product in 90 seconds or less. 90% of that decision is based solely on color.
27. B. Objects reflect light in different combinations of wavelengths.
28. C. . Before the 17th century, scientific publications were mostly written in Latin.
29. B. Refer to the last line of the passage.
30. A. Latin was the language mainly used to write articles.