

Answer Key and Solutions

Exercise- 13

1. D. Fundamental changes are taking place in the global energy system which will affect almost all countriesInnovations in digitalization and energy storage are expanding the potential for renewable....To raise awareness and deepen understanding of them,
2. B. Just as fossil fuels have shaped the geopolitical map over the last two centuries, the energy..... Many renewable technologies are now cost competitive with fossil fuels in the power sector,.....Electric vehicles and heat pumps are extending the deployment of renewables in transport,....
3. C. There are many forms of cybercrimes and for ease of reference, it includes but not limited to 419.....
4. C.. Further, perceived fairness can mitigate negative outcomes, such as unfavorable ratings. Defining competencies behaviorally provides a solid basis for differentiating between employees who are performing more or less effectively than others.
5. A. The competencies should also be defined to reflect different levels of responsibility, complexity.....
6. D. It is the largest service industry globally in terms of gross revenue as well as foreign exchange earnings.
7. A. Refer to the last four lines of the passage.
8. C. India accounts for about 80 per cent of world turmeric production.....India exports this member of spices family for medicinal and other purposes to almost
9. C. However, the teacher must first want and be able to teach financial literacy in a more critical manner..... Despite the consumerist inflection of the curriculum and most financial literacy resources...While this is also a possibility, given the greater support for teaching financial literacy the institutional pressure
10. B.one that is critical of the individualization of risk, the vision of the individual as a self-interested consumer and the naturalization and depoliticization of the economy.

11. C. Relying on short term, strong emotional reactions to aesthetic experiences is counter productive. It is longer term projects such as the choir in Bosnia...Herzegovina that Roberts discusses that can benefit from an academic investigation...it is also an important space for the development of relationships beyond the art event itself
12. B. Relying on short term, strong emotional reactions to aesthetic experiences is counter productive. It is longer term projects such as the choir in Bosnia-Herzegovina that Roberts discusses that can benefit from an academic investigation, where it is important to understand power dynamics and identity issues as Riiser demonstrates in her paper.
13. D. On the other hand, ethics is society specific.. For example, in India, there is one law applicable to every citizen, but possibly there are several ethics applicable to society concerned only.
14. C. However, both the terms – legal and ethical – are spatio-temporal and change with time and space.
15. A. The main aim of democracy is to accommodate all the diversities as well as protect and nurture the creativities of different cultures present within.
16. B. By treating unequal equally, „marginalised“ groups are pushed aside by the dominant group. This encourages assimilation of marginalised groups into the culture of the dominant group.
17. D. They provide a range of services from hardware such as shared offices, access to research labs.....
18. B. The Agri-Business Incubator (ABI) is a place where the process of starting Agri-business venture....
19. C. ...conscience itself is primarily emotional: we associate feelings of pleasure and pride with right action, and feelings of guilt and shame with wrong action. On a personal level, social conscience is what bridges that gap.
20. B. If we can understand the social conscience of others, we can find common values and goals among...
21. D. It was also not intended to be a record of the activities of any one group. Composed at various points of time over a long span of about 600 years and authored by people of various levels-.....
22. B. Read the definition and working framework of tuning method given in the passage.

23. C. Better reconstructions can sometimes be obtained using nonlinear estimators, but the linear estimate provided by reverse correlation is often...
24. A. According to the study, intelligence has increased significantly during the past two decades, whereas creativity and creative thinking have decreased
25. B. After that, these abilities remain quite stable for about a year until they begin a steady decline.
26. B. There should be more opportunities available for pupils to be active and have....
27. A. Because the proverb denotes the unexpected events in life such as that of the King who was killed by a bear.
28. D. In the given passage, success refers to the King's presence to taste the wine.
29. A. At the time of planning and dreaming, many things may seem to be in our favor.
30. A. He illustrates a proverb with its origin.